FOXTROT
RACING

Next time you're planning to entertain clients in an informal setting, or reward staff with a day or evening out, consider leasing a racehorse for the day. When leasing a racehorse you become the owner for a day with all the associated exposure and privileges. Foxtrot Racing is the largest racehorse leasing company in the UK. We make racehorse ownership accessible and affordable. We work closely with other industry professionals, while our inside knowledge of the sport is second to none.

WHEN YOU LEASE A RACEHORSE FROM FOXTROT, YOU'LL ENJOY:

Excitement – watching a highly trained, beautifully bred racehorse racing to win in your or your company's name.

Flexibility – Foxtrot can arrange for you to lease a horse for a day, a season, or for the horse's racing lifetime.

A high profile – your or your company's name can appear on the race card, in the newspapers and also on the horse's rug and attendant's clothing, even on the jockey's clothing if you wish.

Liaison with trainer and jockey – the privileges that come with ownership, from owners' badges with access to the paddock before and after the race, and hearing the trainer and jockey decisions in the paddock. As the owner, you even have access to special bars and viewing areas.

Greater uptake of incentives – if you lease a racehorse for the day as a competition prize or motivational incentive, you're likely to attract broad interest because racing is an increasingly popular leisure choice.

A gamble – the chance to win 25% of the prize money if your horse finishes in the first six, when you choose to increase your lease cost.

All this adds up to a thoroughly entertaining, innovative and memorable day out.

In May 2005, Julien Loffet, Managing Director of Confex Limited was looking for a corporate day out with a difference. Foxtrot organised a racing day for 40 guests of Confex, and leased a horse at their local racecourse, Warwick.

Visit www.foxtrot.co.uk/casestudies to see how their horse fared. At the end of a glorious day, Julien Loffet commented, “Single day racehorse leasing is an innovative option for client entertainment and adds so much more to a day at the races. Foxtrot Racing was thorough and professional in all aspects of our day and I would have no hesitation in recommending them. In fact our day was so successful that we are going to lease a horse and come racing for our office Christmas party!”
